Dear Will:

First let me begin by thanking you for your important leadership role in the life of Alaska's Export Council (ECA) and our related District Export Council (DEC). Your high initiative in taking the reins came at a critical time, an act which reflects great credit on ECA, DEC, your AEDC employer and your own abilities.

When I joined the ECA/DEC ranks at the request of our then Chairman, Tony Follett, and Chuck Becker, it was to provide a modest degree of energy pipeline/LNG tax, regulatory and export expertise.

However, I am now more removed from contemporary, energy advances and am not employed with an exporting entity. Accordingly, I no longer consider myself qualified to serve.

Finally, as I took on the Chairmanship at another critical time and then watched you assume leadership I am now confident that critical mass has occurred and any value my presence might have added to our endeavor has been overtaken by time, events and the dedication of you and our colleagues. I will add that without Skip Nelson's support and encouragement, our whole enterprise would not be as robust nor as capable of prospering.

That having been said, I must respectfully resign from both organizations with affection and appreciation for our dedicated staff and colleagues.

I look forward to following the progress of ECA/DEC and know that in close conjunction with the dedicated staff and members of the World Trade Center-Alaska the citizens of our state will be well served during the challenging but highly prospective future before us.

Sincerely,

Dave

Dave,

Thank you for your kind note. While I'm sad to hear you are resigning from your Board role on the Export Council, I think it's fair to say we all greatly appreciate the hard work you have put into re-establishing the Export Council. It was no small feat getting the group up-and-running again. Our State could certainly use more dedicated, mission-focused individuals like yourself. Your insights and experience will certainly be missed. However, I am very optimistic about the future prospects of our council and look forward to continuing our collaboration with Alaska exporters and the organizations such as WTCA that support them.

Please don't be a stranger, Dave! We may very well call on your expertise for future needs.

Thank you again,
Will
